

We each can do much more than we imagine. When we push ourselves beyond that “comfort zone” we wear like a sweater, we see what truly is possible.

Here is what you can do:

- Register at the Fund Raiser level for “Take a Swing at Breast Cancer”
- Collect donations
- Share the course that day with other people who are not willing to just stand aside waiting for someone else to take action
- Spend the evening learning how the money you raised will help and celebrating what a small group of committed individuals can accomplish.
- Go home that night and sleep like a well deserving hero because you Give A Sister Hope.

TAKE A SWING

HIGHLAND PARK C.C.

FRI., AUG. 16

Jinks Jervey-Page, a former Chicagoan, lost her battle with breast cancer at age 39. Let's play 18 for Jinks and fund breast cancer research!

The statistics of breast cancer are scary:

- 1 in 8 women will get the diagnosis
- It is the leading cause of death in the U.S. in women ages 40-55
- Every 13 minutes in the U.S., a woman dies from breast cancer every 13 minutes ...

Every 13 minutes, a woman in the United States dies from breast cancer.

That equals 18 women during 18 holes of tournament golf.

On Aug. 16, we will honor Jinks Jervey-Page and others in "Take a Swing at Breast Cancer," a charity golf tournament to raise significant funding for research.
